

CSCCP-ASCCP Advanced Colposcopy Training Courses Were Successfully Held in Shanghai and Tianjin, China

SHANGHAI:

The National Colposcopy and HRA Technical Standardization Training Conference and the CSCCP-ASCCP Advanced Colposcopy Training Course were successfully held between November 11 and November 14, 2021 in Shanghai, China. Dr. Long Sui, CSCCP vice president and Dr. Qing Cong organized and the Obstetrics and Gynecology Hospital of Fudan University hosted the conference.

The conference committee invited national and international experts to introduce the progress in cervical cancer prevention and control, and the basic theories and techniques in the diagnosis and treatment of lower genital tract diseases. About 200 gynecologists participated in the conference. The six major sections were included in the meeting, such as the mechanism and screening of cervical cancer, colposcopy section, interpretation of the latest guidelines, cytopathological analysis, progress and update in treatment, and vaginal vulvar lesions.

Dr. Jacob Bornstein presented “the diagnosis and treatment of vulvar lesions. Dr. Albert Singer Discussed the experience of British colposcopy quality control.

Three ASCCP experts, Drs. Alan Waxman, Christine Conageski, and Chengquan Zhao online attended the case discussion of cervical pathology and colposcopy. ASCCP and CSCCP experts had detailed discussions on the colposcopy impression, the colposcopy histopathological correlation results, and treatment suggestion for nine clinical cases. All the participants were satisfied with the meeting. They expressed that the training course will improve their daily clinical work.

TIANJIN

CSCCP-ASCCP Advanced Colposcopy Training Course was successfully held online from November 19 to 21, 2021. Drs. Fengxia Xue, Liqin Zhang, and Aiping Fan from Tianjin Medical University General Hospital organized this training course. Forty-two Chinese gynecologists from 21 hospitals participated the course. ASCCP experts, Drs. Alan Waxman, Christine Conageski, and Chengquan Zhao attended the training course.

Dr. Waxman gave two lectures, including “Colposcopy in Pregnancy”, and “Colposcopy of Adenocarcinoma in Situ and Adenocarcinoma of the Cervix.” Dr.

Conageski gave two lectures, “Management of Vulvar and Vaginal Dysplasia”, and “High Grade Cervical Treatment”.

Drs. Waxman, Conageski, and Zhao from ASCCP, Drs. Fengxia Xue, Liqin Zhang, Aiping Fan, and Wenjing Son from Tianjin Medical University General Hospital participated in the three hours of case discussion. Six complicated clinical cases were fully discussed. At the end of the training course, trainees expressed their gratitude to the CSCCP-ASCCP experts for their contributions, and looked forward to participating the colposcopy-training course next year.

Written by Qing Cong, Obstetrics and Gynecology Hospital of Fudan University

Aiping Fan, Tianjin Medical University General Hospital

Chengquan Zhao, Magee Women Hospital, UPMC